Personal Profile:

Oliver holds a BSc (Hons) in Property Development from the University of Portsmouth and started his career working for a facility management and property service company based in Havant. His duties included general day-to-day property and facility management; landlord representation; maintaining thorough property records and assisting with the agency for vacant business space.

Oliver most recently worked for a national surveying firm, where he focussed on the acquisition and disposal of industrial and business space.

In 2021, he joined Flude Property Consultants to work within the agency department in Flude's Portsmouth office.
